INTRODUCTORY REPORT.

Office of the Government Statist,
Melbourne, 18th November, 1875.

SIR,

I have the honor to forward herewith a series of tables relating to the year 1874, based upon the returns furnished by the Friendly Societies in Victoria in accordance with the provisions of the 38th section of the Friendly Societies Statute 1865 (28 Vict. No. 254).

2. As compared with the returns of the previous year, an apparent falling off occurs in the number of societies, in the number of lodges, courts, &c., and in the number of members. The following are the returns of the two years :—

Year.	Number of Societies.	Number of Lodges or Courts.	Number of Members.
1873     ...     ...     ...	34	720	44,602
1874     ...     ...     ...	32	710	42,664
Apparent Decrease     ...	2	10	1,938

3. It is certain, however, that the falling off indicated by these figures did not actually take place, but that the apparent decrease has resulted from the fact that a larger number of the societies failed to render returns on this than on the previous occasion.

4. In my last year's report I explained that, although the Statute prescribed that returns should be sent in each year by a certain date, no penalty was provided in the case of returns not being furnished, or being furnished incorrectly, and the consequence was that many returns were forwarded in an incomplete state, and a number of societies sent in no returns at all. The evil then complained of has been growing from year to year.

As there is no doubt that the members of the societies place great reliance upon the fact that returns are required to be made, and as they probably suppose always are made, periodically to the Government, I deem it only right to give publicity to the names of those societies and branches which failed, either wholly or partially, to comply with the Statute in this particular.

The following is a list of societies and branches which furnished no returns whatever for the year 1874 :—

Independent Order of Odd Fellows :—

Ancient Order of Shepherds, comprising seven Branches.

Independent Order of Shepherds.

Victorian Independent Sick Benefit Society.

Australasian United Order of Musicians.

The following societies and branches furnished returns of their experience of sickness and mortality (Form E), but did not furnish, or furnished in an incomplete state, returns of their financial operations (Form F). It is a fact, in connection with which there may perhaps be some significance, that the societies which furnished returns at all rendered the tables of sickness and mortality in a complete state, but a number of societies omitted to give any statement of their accounts. There could be no object in concealing the information contained in the former returns, but it is very possible there might sometimes be grave reasons for concealing that which should be embodied in the latter :—

Independent Order of Odd Fellows :—

Prince Albert Lodge.
Colac Lodge.
Camperdown Lodge.
Wellington Lodge.
Gippsland Lodge.
St. David's Lodge.

It will be observed that eight of the societies, including the Order of St. Andrew with 26 branches, and the Ancient Orders of Royal Foresters and Shepherds each with 7 branches, sent in no returns at all ; that the Protestant Alliance sent in complete returns of 1 branch only out of 23 branches ; that the Hibernian Australasian Catholic Benefit Society sent in returns for 19 branches only out of 57 ; and the St. Patrick's Society sent in returns for 3 branches only out of 8. On the other hand, the Manchester Unity Independent Order of Odd Fellows with the large number of 154 branches, the Grand United Order of Odd Fellows with 53 branches, the Grand United Order of Free Gardeners with 6 branches, and 6 minor societies, sent in returns complete in every particular.

Of the 819 societies or branches said to be in existence in the colony, 710 furnished returns of the number of their members, and these at the end of 1874 were stated to amount to 43,388. Estimating the same proportion of members to belong to the 109 branches which did not furnish returns as belonged to the 710 branches which did, it would follow that the members of all the societies amounted at that period to not less than 50,000.

The branches which furnished statements of their financial position, numbering 638, returned their aggregate income as £138,034, their expenditure as £122,428, and the amount to the credit of their funds as £266,073. Increasing these amounts by proportion so as to apply to the 819 branches known to exist, the following results are obtained :—

Income of Friendly Societies 1874 ... ..	177,194
Expenditure of Friendly Societies 1874 ... ..	157,161
Amount to the credit of Funds 1874 ... ..	341,558

It is a hopeful sign in connection with Friendly Societies that the statements received, defective as they are, show that the moneys invested—for the most part at rates varying from 4 to 8 per cent.—increase steadily from year to year. The following are the amounts remaining at the end of each of the last three years :—

	Amounts Invested by Friendly Societies.
1872 ... ..	188,690
1873 ... ..	208,586
1874 ... ..	225,217

I mentioned in my last report that an improved set of forms for procuring returns of Friendly Societies had been drawn up, which it was proposed should supersede those previously in use. In consequence, however, of a Royal Commission having been appointed to consider the whole question of Friendly Societies, the forms suggested were not adopted, and the old forms are still employed. The question of the forms to be used, which it is essential should provide for obtaining all the materials necessary to enable the true position of the societies to be ascertained, and to afford a basis for actuarial investigation respecting the sufficiency of the rates of contribution made by members, will doubtless engage the attention of this Commission.

Pending the adoption of new forms, much can be done with those at present in use ; and it is hoped that each member of a Friendly Society will make it his business to see that the duty of sending in periodical statements of the operations of his society in accordance with those forms and in compliance with the provisions of the Friendly Societies Statute is not neglected.

I have the honor to be, Sir,

Your most obedient servant,

HENRY HEYLYN HAYTER,

The Honorable the Chief Secretary.

Government Statist.

* The number of Lodges, Courts, &c., in this Table is less, for some years, than that given for the corresponding years in Table III., the reason being that fewer Societies furnished returns of their financial operations (Form F) than of their experience of sickness, mortality, &c. (Form E).

† The names of Societies which furnished returns of Income, Expenditure, &c., for the Year 1874 will be found in Tables V., VI., and VII. A list of those which did not furnish such returns is published after the Tables.

NOTE.—The details of Income and Expenditure do not always balance with the totals, in consequence of the former being sometimes furnished in an imperfect state.

* The number of Lodges or Courts in this Table is greater in some years than that shown for the corresponding years in Table I., the reason being that some of the Societies that furnished the returns of their members, &c. (Form E), did not also furnish returns of their financial operations (Form F).
† The names of Societies which furnished returns showing their Experience of Sickness, Mortality, &c., for the Year 1874, will be found in Table IX. A list of those which did not furnish such returns is published after the Tables.

* This line contains the sum of the particulars respecting all the societies in Victoria embraced under the name of the Ancient Order of Foresters. The districts, however, of the A.O.F. are not affiliated in the same manner as those of the M.U.L.O.F., each district of the former being, to a certain extent, a separate society.
